The H. B. Farnsworth shoe Co. of Portland bought out the Allen Shoe Store in July, 1898, and have been in business here over eleven years. All that time the business has been under the management of F. W. Farnsworth, and has had a good patronage. B. B. Farnsworth was in town, Monday, and personally superintended the removal of the goods. The people are sorry to have the change for it seems like losing a friend that has been a long time with us.
The drill and ball given by the I. O.
O. F. piano association, Tuesday evening, was a success in every way. Mrs.
C. A. Akers was pianist for the drill designed by Mr. Akers and given under his direction. There were a twenty-four young women becomingly gowned in white, red sashes and caps, and waists trimmed in military effect, who took part in the drill:
Misses: Kimball, Grace Jordan,
Grace K. Jones, Mrs. W. W. Sampson,
Mrs. E. DeCoster, Sadie Estlin,
Nicholas Hassan, Grace Robinson,
Mrs. E. W. Newbury, Mrs. C. A. Akers,
Mrs. Richardson, Alice Frost,
Frieda Schuster, Gertrude Jordan,
Hattie Crutch, Hattie Crutch,
Miss Hayes, Mrs. Herbert Bradbury,
Daisy Hayes, Gertrude Hayes,
Daisy French, Mrs. L. J. Brooks.
For forty minutes they marched on the large floor of the opera house, and it was solemnly recorded that no one made a mistake. The drill is full of beautiful figures, including the emblems of the order. Among the movements are cross within a wheel, the two revolving separately or together; maltes cross; single and double octagon; star, and triangle. It was, as had been expected, the finest as well as the largest and longest of the series of beautiful drills which Mr. Akers has produced in Norway. The spectators were delighted and the applause was enthusiastic. The dance that followed was in every way a pleasant and successful occasion, participated in by about sixty couples. The galleries were filled with spectators. Excellent dance music was furnished by Stearns & Nor-sworthy's orchestra. At intermission, ice cream and cake were served.

ALMOST WRONGED.

A Very Pathetic Incident In a Police Court.

"Prisoner," said the police magistrate, "22 witnesses have sworn that you ran through the streets without proper clothing upon you; that you struck a young lady in the face and knocked her down; that you set fire to three houses and a barn; that you shot two men and tried to stab another; that you drove your wife and children from home with a club and compelled them to remain out in the rain all night; that you yelled like a hyena for eight hours at a stretch, making strong men weep and scaring women and children into fits, and that you destroyed the beautiful figures upon our public fountain by hammering them with a sledge. Have you anything to say in your defense?"

"Judge," the prisoner replied, "I admit that all these accusations are true."

"Hah!" the court explained. "You did all that? Then I shall take pleasure in sentencing you to receive the full punishment provided by law. Hanging is too good for such a despicable wretch as you are!"

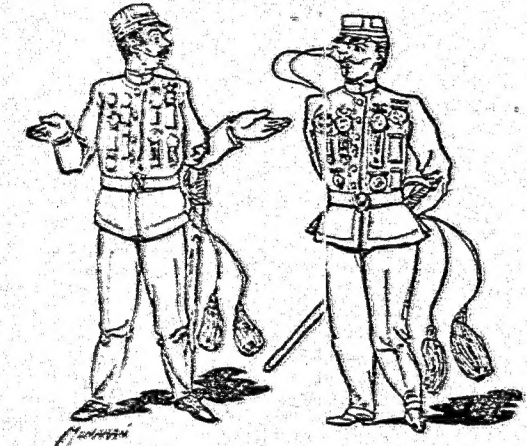

"But," the low browed person at the bar interrupted, "will your honor please let me explain why I did it?"

"There can be no explanation," the judge answered in the severest tones at his command. "You are too low, too contemptible for any consideration whatever. I sentence you—"

"But, judge," yelled the prisoner, "I was drunk when I did it!"

"Oh," the magistrate replied. "Why didn't you explain that at the beginning? I beg your pardon for the harsh things I have said to you. Clerk, call the next case. This gentleman is discharged."—Chicago Times-Herald.

A Critic Rebuked.

"You were not nearly so good a witness as the colonel," said one anti-Dryfist.

"Well," was the answer, in tones of deep reproach, "what do you expect? He studied elocution longer than I did."

Time From the Station.

He showed plainly that he was distressed.

"You told me," he said to the real estate dealer, "that this house was only five minutes' walk from the station."

"On the contrary," replied the real estate man, "I was careful to say nothing about 'walk' in either my advertisement or my conversation. I said it was only five minutes from the station, but I meant with a bicycle."—Chicago Post.

A Scheme For a Cent.

"Brinfield has a new scheme." "Some old pattern?"

"Worse. The odor from the garbage cans annoys him, and he proposes to hire a lot of small boys with big noses to run after the 'vehicles.'"

"What's his idea?"

"Why, the boys are to reduce the annoyance of the neighborhood by sniffing up all they personally can."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Waiter and the Lady.

"Why did you place such a tough fowl before me?" asked the indignant lady patron of the waiter in a down town restaurant.

"Age before beauty, always, you know, madam," was the gallant reply. And then, womanlike, she smiled and paid her bill without a murmur.—Chicago News.

A Bad Name.

"I see that a man named Prizboworsky is accused in Berlin of being a spy."

"Oh, well, he can console himself in his hour of disgrace by the thought that he never did bear a good name."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Possibility.

Mrs. Dethowen—Poor, dear child! Are your parents dead?

Tenement Tommy—I think pap is. Him an mar wuz a-fightin' when I left, an, gee, she wuzn't doin' a thing 'til him.—Ohio State Journal.

Looking Forward.

"I used to have beans to beat the band," said the wedded coquette.

"And now, I suppose," said her husband, "you think you've a husband to beat the carpet? Well, you're mistaken."—Chicago News.

A New Genius.

"G's book is one of the greatest successes of the year."

"You don't say so. What's its title?"

"How to Be Happy Though Married."—Brooklyn Life.

"Congregationalism in England," by Rev. John Brown of Bedford, England, in the October issue of the New England Magazine well supplements Rev. Norton Dexter's "Congregationalism in America" in the September magazine, and is but one of several articles related to Congregationalism to which the magazine is giving prominent place.

Three notable series of articles are begun in the October Ladies' Home Journal: "Her Boston Experiences," analyzing Boston society; "The Theatre and Its People," covering the whole theme from both sides of the footlights; and "The Autobiography of a Girl," her life from sixteen to twenty-one. Through Raymond Kipling's glasses, "The American Girl" is a charming creature; not perfect, of course, but his analysis is interesting.

Could Better Fair.

I wonder if our farmers, who are pushing for tax reform in the State of Maine, give any thought to the very considerable amount of money that is annually foisted upon our State and county shows supposedly in the interest of agriculture?

Aside from professional prize winners the community at large get very, very little good from our shows otherwise than the good there is in having a good time. But have we a right to tax all the people of a State simply that we have a good time? If so, let us carry it a little farther and demand State aid for theatrical and musical entertainments.

If we are to consider practical usefulness, we should take into account the great changes that have taken place since the earlier days when agricultural exhibitions were very important institutions for disseminating information among farmers. Then there were no agricultural colleges and experiment stations, State or National, with their reports and bulletins free to all. There were no boards of agriculture supported by the State holding meetings with the farmers wherever called, and scattering reports and bulletins free and profusely. There were no exclusively agricultural papers of the highest order coming to the farmer's table weekly, for the paltry cost of one dollar per year.

To-day if a man should feel called upon to read all of this matter that is forced upon him he could not find one month in a lifetime to put in practice what he might learn. Best of all we now have the National, State, County and subordinate State holding meetings with the farmers wherever called, and scattering reports and bulletins free and profusely. There were no exclusively agricultural papers of the highest order coming to the farmer's table weekly, for the paltry cost of one dollar per year.

Now what are our agricultural shows adding to all this? Let us look it over a little in detail. As we enter the hall we notice a very large pumpkin. The owner gets a premium of 75 cts., just the value of one-half cart load. Now if we should be inspired to produce just such another one, we should go home just as ignorant as we came. We might look at that pumpkin until the crack of doom and it would reveal none of the secrets of its marvelous growth; but nine chances to one that growth was not the result of any special skill or care. And that pumpkin illustrates the truth in regard to the whole list of vegetables.

Premiums are awarded principally on the merit of size, yet every one knows that the medium in size are the best in the vegetable line.

As for fruit there is no orchardist that does not chance to have some one or more trees that happen to be under favorable circumstances to produce among a barrel of fruit more or less, a dozen very fine specimens, and if the owner happens to be cursed with a great number of kinds of the same fruit all he has to do is to spend the day before the show in hunting over his orchards and gather choice specimens, and if he fails to find as many varieties as he would like, there are other orchards that can afford them to the unscrupulous. The result is a premium. But what has the State got out of it for which it can afford to be taxed?

In brief, after you have taken the trip among the hall exhibits, your eye has been pleased but what other good have you derived? Have you learned anything that will very much influence your future doing in regard to any particular line of action?

So far as the exhibition of improved machinery and the like enables one to see and learn for himself there may be a substantial benefit. And so far as premiums encourage the introduction of thoroughbred animals of desirable breeds there is a public benefit; and yet there is here a mixture of evil. Men for the sake of supremacy are tempted to force a growth of their animals that is unnatural and unhealthy. A hog-fat animal is not the desirable creature for breeding purposes, and then the tricks and dishonest methods resorted to by both the exhibitor and committees are demoralizing.

Fast horses get the lion's share of attention at our exhibitions. Viewed in its most favorable light I am at a loss to understand how the public can justify the lavishing of so much money upon this mere sporting business, for as for the downright practical usefulness the trotting horse is a back number in these days of steam, electricity and the bicycles.

This is an old question that has been much discussed. It seems to be a necessity to make our shows a success, a civilization link to keep us from getting entirely away from the barbarism of bull fighting and gladiatorial combats. But it would seem that if such expenditures as $899.72 (eight hundred and thirty-nine dollars and seventy-two cents) in one year for repairs of one track in Oxford county could have been expended in building one permanent iron bridge for some poor town, that the whole public could enjoy it, it would be better.

Hebron is Fortunate.
Description of the Fine Dormitory for Girls, Now Building at the Hebron Academy, the Gift of Mrs. Phoebe Sturtevant.

No wonder that Hebron Academy is congratulating itself upon the possession of such a friend as the one who is now having built a beautiful dormitory for girls. This friend is Mrs. Phoebe Sturtevant, of Jamaica Plain, Mass., and the building now going up through her generosity is to be known as the "Sturtevant Home." It will cost $70,000.

Substantial in every way and fitted with all modern improvements, the structure will be in every way fully the equal of any dormitory building in New England. The main building is 104 feet long and 50 feet wide, with two projecting center portions, with 27 feet 5 inches wings, 17 feet 6 inches in the main front, one either side of the main front. The kitchen department is in the wing running back toward the northwest, and is 35 feet wide and 52 feet long. The walls of the building are of brick with trimmings of red granite and the roof is to be slate.

The main entrance is in the center of the eastern front; the building being placed on the lot with its longitudinal axis running north and south. A secondary entrance is provided at the southern end of the building, and upon the northeast corner is an entrance leading to the dining room; this entrance is for the male students, giving access only to the dining room. At the main entrance a large covered porch supported by Ionic columns with circular front is flanked on either side by broad open verandas. Opposite the entrance is a large vestibule with mosaic floor and with niches on either side for the reception of statuary. On the right are the reception rooms; one 12x19 feet, and the other 12x24 feet, being connected by wide opening doors. On the left is the parlor, a room about 45x19 feet, finished with beamed ceiling with pilasters on walls.

In the main entrance hall on the west-early side is the staircase, broad, ample and easy of ascent, with windows on every landing. In the extension on the southern end of the building are provided the rooms of the preceptress, consisting of a large sitting room, 18 feet square, and a chamber, 18x15 feet, with private bath. Just north of the staircase hall is the library, with a large bay window facing west, and this room will be fitted with bookcases and provided with a fireplace and mantle. The northern end of the main building is occupied by a dining room, 35 feet wide and 65 feet long. This room is to be finished in ash and stained to imitate old oak. The western end of the dining room is closed so that it can be entirely closed from the other portion of the room by rolling doors, whenever it is desired. The entrance on the northeast corner, which has been alluded to, is the boys' entrance, which opens into a spacious hallway, 17 feet wide, by 29 feet in length, and will be fitted with toilet facilities and with ample hanging space for coats and hats.

The dining-room, library, reception rooms and parlor are to have ornamental ceilings. In the kitchen extension is a large serving room, the kitchen 25x33, a pantry 11x14, a store-room 8x14 ft., and a large pantry kitchen. These rooms are all to be fitted with modern appliances. The kitchen is to be lined with brick throughout.

On the second floor are the sleeping rooms for the students. In the main building the rooms vary in size from 12x15 to 18x15, each room being provided with two large closets. In the northern end over the dining-room are situated the bathing rooms providing five bath tubs, each enclosed in a separate room of its own and with ample closets and lavatories. The second story of the extension (which will be carried only two stories high) are two rooms for the housekeeper, a large linen room with sewing room connected, and smaller chambers. The third story is practically a duplicate of the second. The fourth story, or attic, is provided a large room extending the entire length of the building, and is to be used for prayer meetings and for the girl's library.

Now that the open season, has come for deer hunting, many are after them. Ed. Berry, Swan & Reed's boss, started out, Monday afternoon, but got lost and climbed Old Turk and at dark was on the summit, heard the mill whistle, that gave him the right direction and he started down, but fell over a ledge and sprained his ankle and lost his rifle but finally found it again and crept on down the mountain. Meantime Mr. Reed and Mr. Stanley were sending shot after shot into the night air to give him the direction. At nine o'clock some twenty men started, and found Mr. Berry at ten o'clock at the foot of the mountain slowly and painfully working his way towards the river. The night was dark and the wonder is that he got down without a more serious hurt.

Partridge hunters are much more in evidence than are the birds.

Rev. Mr. Rand preached at our school-house, Sunday afternoon last week. He is put on to take Elder York's place.

As Joseph Reed was hunting for his sheep in the woods back of Mr. Locke's pasture he came upon a very large bear at close quarters. Bruin faced him with out moving. Mr. Reed allowed that one as he was on bruin's territory he very willingly took himself away, leaving the bear standing where he was. Mr. Reed has lost half of his small flock of sheep, and others are losing.

THE RESTAURANT AT THE CAPITOL

Is an interesting place. There you may see the best men in the land and there you can get the best food.

You should also be able to get the best tea.

A capital tea is the only kind that is suitable for the Capitol, and a capital tea is Chase & Sanborn's package tea, fit for the most fastidious.

These package teas of Chase & Sanborn's come in pound and half-pound airtight leaded forms.

By this method the excellent flavor of the teas is not lost by contact with the air.

Another advantage of packing them in this way is that it makes it impossible for their teas to be adulterated.

Among the most popular kinds of their famous package teas are the following:—the Kohinor, an English Breakfast Tea, the Orloff, a Formosa Oolong, and the Orange Pekoe, an India and Ceylon tea.

Any one of these that you buy, that may best suit your taste, will prove itself to be a capital tea.

ONE POUND WILL MAKE OVER 200 CUPS.

CHASE & SANBORN'S TEAS.

When You Buy It Does Not Cost

A range you generally buy for keeps. If so, why not get something that will stay with you? I can sell you a GLENWOOD RANGE, small size, of course, but a good one, coal or wood for $18.00, or I can sell you one that your grandchildren will be glad to inherit for $50.00. The last is the best cooking apparatus that money will buy. Oven double back, front and top. Oven indicator. Extra large broiler door, ash pan that will catch all the ashes, grate that can be removed without disturbing the lining. It is a beauty and can be seen any day at my store.

ary society. The remainder of the place can be used for additional room when the occasion demands.

In the basement under the main building the boilers will be placed, the ceiling to be made fire-proof. There will be a washroom 22x14, and an ironing room 18x22. Under the boys' entrance on the northeastern corner are situated the boys' toilet rooms, and near this entrance is the general entrance to the building, which gives access to a large space which will be fitted with racks for the students' bicycles. The building is to be heated throughout by steam with an efficient scheme of ventilation; ventilating pipes being carried from each chamber to central vent chambers in the attic, which exits to the outer air. The building will be lighted by electricity, which will be installed. In every department of the building great care has been exercised to provide for the comfort, safety and convenience of the inmates. The building will not be ready for occupancy before 1900.

The contractors are as follows: Masonry and carpentry, Blackstone & Smith, Portland; (carpentry sub-let to J. M. Lane, Portland); steam heating and ventilating apparatus, Wallworth Construction Company, Boston; plumbing, W. A. Low, Portland; excavations, Geo. S. Staples, Portland; ledge work and foundation walls, Angelo Loretto, Portland.

Berry, Swan & Reed's boss, started out, Monday afternoon, but got lost and climbed Old Turk and at dark was on the summit, heard the mill whistle, that gave him the right direction and he started down, but fell over a ledge and sprained his ankle and lost his rifle but finally found it again and crept on down the mountain. Meantime Mr. Reed and Mr. Stanley were sending shot after shot into the night air to give him the direction. At nine o'clock some twenty men started, and found Mr. Berry at ten o'clock at the foot of the mountain slowly and painfully working his way towards the river. The night was dark and the wonder is that he got down without a more serious hurt.

Partridge hunters are much more in evidence than are the birds.

Rev. Mr. Rand preached at our school-house, Sunday afternoon last week. He is put on to take Elder York's place.

As Joseph Reed was hunting for his sheep in the woods back of Mr. Locke's pasture he came upon a very large bear at close quarters. Bruin faced him with out moving. Mr. Reed allowed that one as he was on bruin's territory he very willingly took himself away, leaving the bear standing where he was. Mr. Reed has lost half of his small flock of sheep, and others are losing.

Now that the open season, has come for deer hunting, many are after them. Ed. GENERAL JOE WHEELER PRAISES PE-RU-NA FOR CATARRH.

JOE WHEELER'S CHARGE AT SAN JUAN HILL.

Major General Joseph Wheeler, commanding the cavalry forces in front of Santiago and the author of "The Santiago Campaign," in speaking of the great catarrh remedy, Pe-ru-na, says: "I join with Senators Sullivan, Roach and McEnery in their good opinion of Pe-ru-na. It is recommended to me by those who have used it as an excellent tonic and particularly effective as a cure for catarrh."

United States Senator McEnery.
Hon. S. D. McEnery, United States Senator from Louisiana, says the following in regard to Pe-ru-na: "Pe-ru-na is an excellent tonic. I have used it sufficiently to say that I believe it to be all that you claim for it.—S. D. McEnery, New Orleans, Louisiana."

United States Senator Sullivan.
"I desire to say that I have been taking Pe-ru-na for some time for catarrh, and have found it an excellent medicine, giving me more relief than anything I have ever taken.—W. V. Sullivan, Oxford, Miss."

United States Senator Roach.
"Persuaded by a friend I have used Pe-ru-na as a tonic, and am glad to testify that it has greatly helped me in strength, vigor and appetite. I have been advised by friends that it is remarkably efficacious as a cure for the almost universal complaint of catarrh.—W. N. Roach, Larimore, North Dakota."

A free book on catarrh sent to any address by The Pe-ru-na Drug Mfg Co., Columbus, Ohio.

The microbes that cause chills and fever and malaria enter the system through mucous membranes made porous by catarrh. Pe-ru-na heals the mucous membranes and prevents the entrance of malarial germs, thus preventing and curing these affections.

EVERY woman suffering from any female trouble can be helped by Mrs. Pinkham. This statement is based on sound reasoning and an unrivaled record. Multitudes of America's women to-day bless Mrs. Pinkham for competent and common-sense advice. Write to her if you are ill. Her address is Lynn, Mass. Absolutely no charge is made for advice. "I suffered seven years and would surely have died but for your help," writes Mrs. Geo. BAINBRIDGE, Morea, Pa., to Mrs. Pinkham. "It is with pleasure I now write to inform you that I am now a healthy woman, thanks to your kind advice and wonderful medicine. I can never praise it enough. I was a constant sufferer from womb trouble, and a leucorrhoea, had a continual pain in abdomen. Sometimes I could not walk across the floor for three or four weeks at a time. Since using your medicine, I now have no more bearing-down pains, or tired feelings, and am well and hearty. I shall recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all my suffering friends as the greatest remedy for all female weakness."

SAFE COUNSEL FOR SICK WOMEN

Mr. SUSIE J. WEAVER, 1821 Callowhill St., Philadelphia, Pa., writes: "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I had inflammation of the womb and painful menstruation, and by your advice I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Have taken four bottles and used one package of Sanative Wash and feel like a new woman. I thank you so much for what your medicine has done for me."
Mrs. M. BAUMANN, 771 W. 21st St., Chicago, Ill., writes: "After two months' trial of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I can not say enough in praise for it. I was a very sick woman with womb trouble when I began its use, but now I am well."

Carroll Allen and Bert Libby of Portland were at their grandfather's, Jas. Hanson's, last week, on their way home from a hunting trip in New Hampshire.

There seemed to be a chapter of accidents, last Saturday, at Harrison village. Firstly, on the evening before as David Kneeland was driving through the village he collided with another team driven by Ed. Emerson. The latter was thrown over the dasher breaking a finger and receiving other bruises. Both carriages were wrecked and harnesses injured. Secondly, a little after noon on Saturday, Lottie Wetherell was driving from the village to her home in the north part of the town. A double team in attempting to pass hit her wheels and she was thrown out. Though not severely injured she was badly shaken up and the wagon smashed. Another accident occurred on the same day that has cast a gloom over the whole village. The son of the Rev. Mr. Harman while loading a rifle, accidentally discharged it, the shot passing through both legs of his mother below the knee. One leg was badly shattered. A piece of bone five inches long was taken out, and the wound is said to be very bad. The other leg was not quite so badly injured. At the present writing hopes are entertained that the leg may be saved.

Stone-Abbott.

The marriage of Florence Abbott of Bethel to Rev. O. L. Stone of Newry took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Abbott, Tuesday, Oct. 10, Rev. W. B. Eldridge officiating.

A number of guests, the friends and relatives of the bride and groom, were present.

The bride was prettily dressed in a dove colored costume, tastefully trimmed with white satin and white ribbon. She is well known as a popular school teacher in this and the adjoining towns, and was a member of the Bethel News staff for about two years.

The groom, formerly of Norway, is pastor of the M. E. church at Newry. This is his second pastorate and his second year at this place.

The bridal couple will be absent for a two-weeks' wedding tour, after which they will return to their future home in Newry.

They will be at home to friends after the 24th. No cards.

NORWAY AND VICINITY.

The front of W. E. Bicknell's store has been repainted yellow.

Mrs. Etta Fogg of Gardiner has been visiting Mrs. Lottie Rowe.

Hugh Pendexter will deliver the memorial address at Phillips.

Mrs. Charles K. Bewley of Somerville is a guest at Charles G. Rowe's.

Mrs. Abby Holt of Framingham, Mass., has been visiting Mrs. Julia Rowe.

Elva Sargent of Portland visited her brother, Arthur G. Sargent, Sunday.

Mrs. H. E. Ingalls of East Shelburne, N. H., recently visited friends in Norway.

Oxford Lodge of Freemasons goes to Bolster's Mills, Thursday evening, to visit the lodge there.

The pumps at the pumping station, which have been run for some time by electricity, are now run by steam.

The postal authorities have established a closed mail for Auburn and Lewiston, leaving Norway on the early morning train.

The Norway Fish and Game association has asked the state commission for 10,000 red-spot trout fry for Lake Pennesseewassee.

A. P. Libby, harness repairer, has hung out a sign by the door leading up stairs at the east corner of Main and Bridge streets.

The roof of the cornshop of the H. F. Webb Co. has been newly shingled, the past week. Other improvements have also been made about the buildings.

Mrs. Otis N. Jones and Miss Jones of Boston are in town. They had a most European trip this summer, including good weather on both voyages across the ocean.

Rockmeke Council, J. O. U. A. M., of Livermore Falls dedicated a new hall, Sept. 27. The dedicatory address was delivered by Hugh Pendexter of the council at Phillips.

J. Wesley Swan returned, Friday, from a trip to Hamilton, Ont., Montreal and New York. He witnessed the Dewey parade in New York, but did not get much of a look at the Admiral, owing to the crowd.

F. C. Bacon of Boston was in town, Friday, with the carcase of a fine large deer shot on the New Hampshire line at Hastings. He used a repeating rifle. His companions were Percy Parker of Boston and Rodney W. Richardson of Montreal.

Rev. E. W. Webber, Universalist pastor at Mechanic Falls, preached to the Norway Universalists in exchange with Rev. Caroline E. Angell, Sunday. Mr. Webber took for his subject Robert G. Ingersoll and gave a scholarly account of the influence of the great agnostic.

The show windows on the Bartlett store, that were built by C. B. and F. P. Bartlett when the store was occupied by them as a dry goods store, have been removed. The windows now go straight across the front as they did originally. This is much better for Akers & Haselton's grocery business.

Owing to his increasing insurance business, A. E. Morrison, esq., has been obliged to increase his office room in Cheney block. To do this he has rented the front office formerly occupied by Swasey & Swasey, which he has fitted up, making a very pleasant and convenient office for his use. Morrison will have charge of the office while he looks after the outside work.—[Rumford Falls Times.]

The Bridgton News thus discusses us: "Norway is very aspiring. She is agitating an improved water-power; she is starting up of the Spiny shoe-shop; the compelling of the Grand Trunk to run trains on the Norway branch, and a direct connection with the Maine Central by a line from Lewiston running through Oxford and Welchville. There's a deal of energy if some star-gazing among these thrifty Norwegians."

In the window of the Noyes drug store, this week, has been shown a large photo of Rock Island in Lake Pennesseewassee owned by Dr. Albert Thompson of Davis, West Virginia. The photo is an enlargement of the one from which the half-tone cut was made, which was recently published in the ADVERTISER, and the work is done by Swan. The extra fine finish has caused many favorable remarks by those who have seen the work.

Millinery Opening.

Mrs. E. G. Skillings had her fall millinery opening, Friday and Saturday.

She had some fifty trimmed hats and bonnets for inspection.

Mrs. V. W. Hills does not have a millinery opening in the fall, though she has a goodly number of trimmed hats and bonnets in stock to give people an idea of what they may want.

Among the many styles displayed the Spanish toque is the most noticeable, because it is decidedly different from those that have been worn. The trimmings are piled on and round about, folds on folds, to give a heavy effect. Grebes' breasts are much worn. Many of these are in long strips with a feather ending, that are placed over the edge of the hat or toque.

Toques are made of the entire grebe's breasts, the short wings and neck used for trimming, with perhaps the addition of a bird or wing. Other breasts are made of feathers in different colors and combinations. Birds are more used than ever and some hats have flocks of three or more.

A new way of putting on plumes is to place the right side next to the hat and turn the end over for a plume effect. Much scale jet ornament is used. These may be on the edge, with the trimmings and as ornaments. Black, black and white, gray, pastel colors, watermelon shades, blue and brown, green, magenta, and other reds are the favorite colors.

Tam O'shanter crowns are plentiful, and some of the styles of hats are fashionable. Handkerchiefs in pastel colors with plain edges are used in trimming, cording, tucking and shirring are all used; also tucking and shirring in scallops combined. Much of the trimming is put on in wing shapes. Broad velvet ribbons, chiffon and taffeta ribbons, shawl, blue and white, checked velvet and lace in fancy weaves are only a few of the various trimmings seen. Rose pompons are stylish, also feathers and ribbon pompons.

Some of the hats are trimmed to have a broad effect, others are trimmed high. Butterflies of all kinds remind one of spring. Some of the hat crowns are made of velvet folds; there is also embroidered velvet and cut work through which the silk underneath shows. Hats noted in front of others in the back and turned up most anywhere.

The bonnets are neat little tidy affairs and the woman who wears one among the more pretentious hats must appear very modest indeed.

A Thousand Tongues

Could not express the rapture of Annie E. Springer, of Philadelphia, when Dr. King's New Discovery cured her of a hacking cough that for many years had made life a burden. She says: "After all other remedies and doctors failed, it soon removed the pain in my chest and I can now sleep soundly, something I can scarcely remember doing before. I feel like sounding its praises throughout the Universe." Dr. King's New Discovery is guaranteed to cure all troubles of the Throat, Chest or Lungs. Price 50c per bottle. Free trial bottles free. The New York World, Thrice-a-Week Edition.

Almost a Daily—at the Price of a Weekly. The most widely circulated "weekly" newspaper in America is the Thrice-a-Week edition of The New York World.

With the Presidential campaign now at hand you cannot do without it. Here are some of the reasons why it is easily the leader in dollar a year journals.

It is issued every other day, and is to all purposes a daily.

Every week each subscriber receives 18 pages and often during the "busy" season 24 pages each week.

The price is only $1.00 per year.

It is virtually a daily at the price of a weekly.

Its news covers every known part of the world. No weekly newspaper could stand alone and furnish such service.

The Thrice-a-Week World has at its disposal all of the resources of the greatest newspaper in existence—the wonder of modern journalism—"America's Greatest Newspaper," as it has been justly termed.—The New York World.

Its political news is absolutely impartial. This fact will be of especial value in the Presidential campaign coming on.

The best of current fiction is found in its columns.

These are only some of the reasons; there are others. Read it and see them all.

We offer this unequalled newspaper and the Oxford County Advertiser together one year for $2.20.

An Episode in Married Life.

Mr. and Mrs. White had been married over a year, and everything had moved on pleasantly. Mr. White prided himself on being a model husband.

Mrs. White, with loving pride on his slender, graceful young wife he resolved that she should never be such a drudge as many of the women he had seen were, just so long as he should live to smooth her pathway.

In accordance with this intention, he had been accustomed to do the churning. They used an old-fashioned dash churn.

His mother had always used one, and he had given the subject little thought, as she was a robust, vigorous woman, who never complained of her tasks. But he somehow felt different about his pretty and delicate wife. To be sure, she had never asked him to churn. He had volunteered, whenever he saw her getting the cream ready to do the churning.

After several months had passed in this way, he began to realize that churning with an old up-and-downer was not so amusing as he thought it would be, and if there was anything of which he had a horror, it was a fear that some of his companions might think he was being "henpecked" a little. He had no idea of coming under "petticoat government."

Accordingly, when the next churning day came, he sat intently reading a newspaper, sublimely indifferent to the surroundings; till all at once he jumped up, declaring he had nearly forgotten that he was to churn the cream down town on business that morning.

Mrs. White made no objections to this sudden movement, but looked surprised. Grabbing his hat, he rushed forth. He soon fell in with a few of his bachelor friends, and, young—terrible the torture they put on him, he hurried to the churn.

He had fancied his wife with a reproachful, perhaps angry face; but to his surprise and relief she was all that heart could desire in the line of smiles and kind words. Not one word of allusion did she make to the churning, although she had seen him do the deed just as he had seen it on leaving the house. She kept chatting in her most lively mood on subjects foreign to her domestic affairs.

Feeling ashamed of himself, he backed out of the churn and placed the old dash with unwonted vigor. Rattle-bang, to-splash, over and over again went the old churn, until the perspiration ran down his back, but he stopped not, only to mop his face occasionally. Two hours he worked the dash, until his muscular arm grew weary, and no signs of the butter coming. What the device aided the stuff? It never was so long coming before!

"My dear, I think you have churned that butter till it's don't you?"

"I did the churning while you was gone," he fell in sweet accents on his ear.

Had he been struck by a flash of lightning he couldn't have dropped into a chair more suddenly, feeling out of context with everything—especially Joe White. Realizing how easily his wife had got the best of him, he resolved that never again would he try to get the best of a woman; and going out in the shed would have kicked himself for an idiot, if it had been possible.

Perhaps it may interest the ladies if I state that Mr. White, soon after, purchased a modern crank churn of the double action, lightning process pattern, warranted to give satisfaction or money to be refunded, and a fat premium thrown in.

The old dash churn is doing duty as a swill barrel.

DENMARK.

Jacob Merrifield is drawing A. H. Witham a lot of prepared stove wood.

Owen Head went to Portland, last Thursday, to attend the medical college.

Bailey Trumbull and Augustus Pingree have moved on the S. G. Davis farm.

Mr. Fuller and wife, who have been summering at the Colby cottage returned to Boston, Monday.

Our high school teacher, A. C. Eames, and C. O. Pendexter went to North Bridgton, Saturday, to witness a ball game.

John Colby has sold a large pair of oxen and bought a smaller pair, and Edwin Pingree has sold a pair of oxen and a cow to John Weston of Fryeburg.

Fernando Witham is having a visit from his sister, Mrs. Consens, and little daughter of Limington, and the little daughter of E. W. Bosworth of Hiram.

Rev. Geo. Woodward and wife of Freeport are at his wife's parents', Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Pingree's, for a few weeks' vacation. He will preach here, the 15th.

Belle Smith has gone to California with her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, who have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Smith, for several weeks past.

Mrs. Will Jones and her aunt of Lowell, Mass., have been visiting at A. H. Jones', the last week. They started, Saturday, on their journey homeward via a trip to the White Mountains.

Henry Miller, formerly of Princeton, but now making his home at Fryeburg Center, has been visiting relatives and old acquaintances in town, several days past, and calling on uncle Joseph Bennett and family and took tea.

Everybody's liable to itching piles. Rich and poor, old and young—terrible the torture they suffer. Only one sure cure. Doan's Ointment. Absolutely safe; can't fail.

E. A. Merrill, Norway Lake, will sell his farm and a lot of personal property at auction, at 10 o'clock a. m., Tuesday, Oct. 24. The farm is a good one of 80 acres, 4 miles from Norway village on Harrison stage road. Personal property includes 7 head of cattle, 1 hog, 6 shotes, hay and fodder, tools of all kinds, trap carriage, carts, harnesses, 2 sets traverse sleds, mower, horse-rake, corn planter, plows, harrows, cultivator, poultry, etc.

It is claimed that Patrick Henry of Portland has seen 103 years. He was born according to all that is known of him here, in Galway, Ireland, in 1796 or 1797. He claims to have heard Daniel O'Connell speak. He is unable to speak English and converses only in Irish despite the fact that he came to America 30 years ago. He picks up wood and does what little work he can get. He is very poor, but is cheerful and contented. He has been blind since he was a child and he walks without apparent effort. Up to manhood he never wore a shoe or stockings. His keenest recollection of the past is the great wind of 1838, when, as he says, it blew the trout out of the water and broke the wings of the wild geese flying.

FRYE.

Mrs. J. W. Buzzell is on the sick list. Contractor W. I. White of Rumford Falls called on J. W. Buzzell, last Sunday.

Mrs. Elsie Robbins is quite sick with a severe cold and cough. Colds are prevalent since the late change to damp weather.

Enoch Knapp is again quite poorly and is being cared for by his daughter, Mrs. Hatch, at all times when her health will permit her to do so. The family have been visited by relatives from Chicago, this week.

Mrs. Ellen Hanscom Judkins, who was the daughter of Rectina Judkins and niece of Mrs. Nathaniel Taylor, has been visiting her relatives here after an absence of thirty years. She returned to her home at Marseilles, Ill., last week.

Rev. S. S. York is reported to be slowly improving in health. His cottage has been purchased by the society with funds raised at the annual meeting. The society is about to begin the building of horse sheds at the grove, and it is hoped that all will realize the benefits of a warm, safe shelter for horses upon occasions whenever either the grove or schoolhouse there is occupied, and not be backward in aiding so good an object. The sheds will be located upon land conveniently near, which the society receive through the generosity of Milo Mitchell.

No deer have been killed as yet.

James Irish of Hartford was in town, last week.

Guy Herrick and family have moved to Lewiston.

Samuel and family are at home from the lakes.

H. A. Smith and family have moved to New Hampshire.

Lizzie Harper of Boston is spending a few weeks at George Easter's.

Amos Alden has returned to his old job on the electric cars at Lynn, Mass.

E. G. Knapp is building his chimneys over. A mason from Andover is on the job.

Charles Merrill and wife have been to Dixfield, for the past two weeks, on a visit.

George Easter is building a new barn to replace the old one, burnt, last August. Leslie Dunn is working for him.

Our schools are all in session. Center school is being taught by Annie Walker of Bridgton; Houghton school by John S. Taylor of Byron; and west end by Nellie Ripley of Andover.

The hunters of this vicinity have started in for a bird hunt, with Arthur and John Hodson as captains. They will hunt, two days, and have twenty hunters on a side, the side getting the least game to pay for the supper that is to be furnished by E. G. Knapp on Monday evening. Game is not very plenty, so a small count is looked for.

It Pays to Use WHITE PEARL FLOUR, Sold Only by H. J. Bangs.

What four things interest everyone?

From our experience in the grocery business we find that while people wish a fine quality of goods in all lines there are four things about which everyone is especially particular.

FIRST—as to their flour. While we keep several brands in stock the White Pearl is our leader. It is the best allround flour that can be produced from white winter wheat, present price, $4.50 per bbl.

SECOND—about their tea. We have all grades including the famous Norway Tea (our own brand) prices as follows: 40c, 50c, 60c and 70c per lb.

THIRD—in regard to the coffee. Rio, 10, 12 1-2, 18, 20 and 23c per pound; good Java and Mocha in 1-pound cans for 25c per pound; Chase and Sanborn's Seal Brand in 1 and 2-pound cans at 35c per pound.

FOURTH—about their molasses. We have four grades, 25, 30, 35 and 40c per gallon. (We also have a syrup for 50c per gallon that is fine.)

We wish to say a few words in regard to the crockery business. We have always kept a small stock of crockery in the same room with our groceries, but feeling the need of more room we are fitting up on the second floor and shall have the largest and best stock of crockery, glassware and stoneware to be found in the county. There will be an entrance to it from the street and also from the front room down stairs. Mr. W. W. Walker who has had several years' experience in the crockery business before coming to Norway, will have full charge of the business. He has purchased the stock in Portland and Boston. This week we wish to call your attention to 2 items—Flower Pots and Jardinieres. A few of them are displayed in our window and the prices are very low. We shall have an opening as soon as we get fitted up. Yours resp.,

H. J. BANGS.
